Supt. W. E. Wenner's Message

●For many years it has been my privilege and pleasure to use this column for a brief message to the outgoing class. This year, I can do nothing better than reproduce a commencement message written for all youth by David Starr Jordan, one-time President of Leland Stanford University. Although the message is so worded as to give an impression that it was written for boys, it includes all young people in school and out. Read it now, then clip it and paste it in your scrap book for later consideration.

Your AFTERSELF

Your first duty in life is toward your afterself. So live that the man you ought to be may, in his time, be possible, be actual. Far away in the years he is waiting his turn. His body, his brain, his soul, are in your boyish hands. He cannot help himself. What will you leave for him? Will it be a brain unspoiled by lust or dissipation; a mind trained to think and act; a nervous system true as a dial in its response to the truth about you? Will you, Boy, let him come as a man among men in his time? Or will you throw away his inheritance before he has had the chance to touch it? Will you turn over to him a brain distorted, a mind diseased, a will untrained to action, a spinal cord grown through and through with "the devil-grass, wild oats"? Will you let him come and take your place, gaining through your experience, happy in your friendships, hallowed through your joys, building on them his own? Or will you fling it all away, decreeing, wantonlike, that the man you might have been shall never be? This is your problem which is vastly more to you than any or all others. How will you meet it, as a man or as a fool? It comes before you today and every day, and the hour of your choice is the crisis in your destiny!

Another Class Graduates, But the Ranks Will Close

Each spring Harbor High graduates another senior class. This year it is we, the class of 1945, who are leaving these dear familiar halls and faces forever. It is with sad regrets and fond memories that we leave, but, as in the past, things will go on the same and others will take our places.

Many of us try to delude ourselves that the school will not be able to get along without us. To prove that our number is few and can easily be replaced, consider these facts.

Of 46 members on the track squad only 12 are seniors. Seventeen seniors are listed among the 46 in the Senior Dramatics Club; 8 out of 28 members on the football team; 4 of 17 on the basketball team; 10 out of 18 on the Mariner staff. Out of 51 members in the Senior a Cappella Choir, 16 are seniors; only 10 members out of 84 are seniors from the band. There are 10 seniors in the 23 on the Usher Squad; and in the Thespians 12 out of 22 are seniors.

So, with the knowledge that all will soon go on much the same without us, we take our last leave of Harbor. Before we go, however, we wish the best of luck to those who will return next year and we bestow our many thanks upon all of you who have given us the happiest years of our lives.

It's Been a Busy Year . . .

● Only nine months ago, on Sept. 5, the class of 1945 started on its final year's journey in Harbor High School. It was the last lap of their high school days, and the finish line was May 28.

These days will always be remembered by many students, for it seemed that school wasn't much more than in session before there was the junior-senior openhouse, Sept. 15; the freshman-sophomore openhouse, Sept. 23; and the openhouse for the seventh and eighth grades, Sept. 30. Many students attended each openhouse . . . It wasn't even long before the first six weeks ended, Oct. 13 . . . November came soon and, on the fourth, the first dance of the year was sponsored by the Senior Girls' Club.

It turned out a success with 200 attending . . . Next came National Education Week, Nov. 5 . . . Students were jubilant, when night school rolled around for there were no afternoon classes . . . Already, one-third of their final year had passed, for the second six weeks ended, Nov. 24 . . . On the same date an assembly program was put on by Jack Morrow . . . Vacation, yes, the first vacation since school started came on Nov. 29, Thanksgiving, and the annual Turkey Day football game was played before several thousand fans . . . During the vacation, the P.-T. A. was in charge of the annual dance, Dec. 1. Students and ex-Harborites in service made it a gala affair . . . In assembly, Dec. 6, Edward Dill presented a special program . . . Several days after the big snowstorm in northern Ohio, the senior class presented "Thumbs Up," Dec. 13. The play was great, even though many people could not attend because of the snow-hampered transportation in the city . . . The Christmas Meditation program was Dec. 17, and the recognition program, Dec. 21. Another vacation for the students and faculty came on Dec. 21, when school was dismissed at 3 p. m., for the Christmas vacation . . . Approximately one hundred and eighty people attended the third dance of the year, sponsored by the Senior Girls' and Pilot Clubs, Dec. 23; a lighted Christmas tree in the center of the gym floor was the decoration centerpiece . . . School re-opened, Jan. 2, and students came back to their classes still half asleep after New Year's Eve . . . Another program in assembly was put on by the De Harrack Co., Jan. 15, and it was great . . . It seemed that school had just started by the time the first semester ended, Jan. 19 . . . Already one-half of the school year had passed, and it wasn't long until Feb. 14, and the Mariner Variety show came; over 700 people attended the evening performance and the profits were more than was expected . . . Again a day of vacation came, this time on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22. Two days later the Pilot Club held a dance, which proved great both in profit and in attendance; over 225 persons turned out . . . By now, the fourth six weeks had passed, and it was March 2 . . . Another triumph was the junior class play, "Early to Bed, Early To Rise," presented before a full house, March 12 . . . An Easter Hop was held by the Senior Girl Reserves, March 24 . . . John Frye, magician, fooled many in the program, March 21 . . . Vacation again, this time the spring recess, started March 28 and lasted till April 1 . . . April 2 will be remembered; students had to come to school one-half hour earlier because of the new time schedule. The second dance sponsored by both the Senior Girls' and Pilot Clubs was on April 7, and many were seen there . . . The fifth six weeks came to a close, April 20, and the school year was practically over . . . C. E. Jones presented a program in a special assembly, April 27 . . . The annual prom for the juniors and seniors came early, April 28. Everyone had a good time at the all-school carnival, May 4, which started in the afternoon and lasted late into the night . . . The arts, crafts, and home arts exhibit interested many people, May 11 . . . On the same date, the P.-T. A. held a party for the seniors, the winning class of the attendance contest . . . Then came the L. S. A. L. track meet in Mentor, May 11 . . . The party for the band and choir, May 19, was given by the Music Boosters; everyone had a good time . . . Then came the senior party, May 25, at the school . . . Baccalaureate services were on May 27, and finally commencement, May 28.

Valedictorian

●MEET . . . Allen Turula, valedictorian of the senior class. He has brown hair and blue eyes and is six feet tall . . . Favorites with him are vegetable salad, purple, and basketball . . . Reading serves as a pastime, and he likes to watch the acting of Michael O'Shea .

Another favorite of his is the song, "I've Got a 'Tup-pence," a British sailor's song . . . Though the quiet type, he jives to the songs of the Golden Gate Quartet . . . His pet hate is buying groceries . . . His ambition is to study here and abroad to be a scientific research worker . . . The greatest thrill of his life was enrolling at the Washington Building to join the present senior when they were in the third grade.

Seriously, They Have Plans . . .

Most of the Harbor boys this year have their general future planned for them, but they do "prefer" different branches of the armed forces. There are others still young enough to entertain hopes of going to college.

Naval Radar training is in for Oiva Paavola, Bill Lehtinen, Bob Wilhide, and Robert Jokela. Going into the Navy in general service are Wayne Kosola and Harry Bourdeau.

Likely to go into the Army are William Clint, William Lappala, Steve DiMare, Herman Kotila, Allan Finnila, Allen Turula, Gerald Johnson, and Anthony Laveck.

The Merchant Marine will claim William Holmstrom, William Rantala, and Richard Sasso.

William Pierce is going to Duke University. Bob Hyde heads for Ohio State, to become a veterinary.

William Millberg, Paul Tikkanen, William Shea, and Don Zalimeni are as yet undecided.

For the girls, there is more freedom of choice. College is attractive to Anna Marie Aickin and Virginia Haapala, who prefer Ohio State; Virginia Miner, Ohio University.

Marge Ennen, Retha Estok, Margaret Mary Mahoney, and

Viola Kaarto will train as cadet nurses. Jeanne Burns will enter nurse's training.

Shirley DeGroodt, Jean McArthur, and Jean Abernethy are taking up secretarial work.

Dorothy Heino is enrolling in the Ellsworth Beauty Culture School, Cleveland. Marcella Johnson hopes to enter a school of advertising. Mildred Raitto will go to Duke Secretarial School; Doris Lukkarila, Central Radio School; Dorothy Collier, Credit Bureau; Joan Shwacofer, Leland Powers School of Radio, Boston.

JoAnn Hites, Kaino Wuori, Beverly Woodring, Lorraine Nieminen, Irene Koi, Ada McCoy and Pat Ballard are still undecided.

7 of 17 Lettermen are Seniors

●Eight seniors received letters in the 1944 football season, along with nine fellow members of the team who will be back for next season.

Allan Lillvis ("Boots" to everyone) was again this year's center and captain of the 1944 outfit.

Don Zalimeni ("Zazz") played left half and was the "bootlegger" specialist. He was the first player from Harbor in a good many years to receive mention on the All-Ohio football squad.

Wayne Kosola, left tackle, made the grade in his first year of varsity playing.

Harry Bourdeau, quarterback, was rated by people as one of the "fightingest" backs in the league, always in there pitching to win, really a player's player.

Richard Sasso, another fellow who worked himself up to the first string, played with his whole heart in every game.

Bill Millberg, a backfield man, did a fine job whenever called upon to do his part as a replacement.

Bob Jokela was out for the squad every year since he came from Dorset and finally succeeded in gaining a berth on the first team in his last year.

Varsity "H's" went also to Bud Ballo, Carl DeMarco, Ed Pohjala, Armand Michelson, Tom Asuma, and Fred Leng, all juniors, and to Jack Bowler, Bob Ockman, and John Johnson, sophomores.

In Years to Come . . .

● High hopes they may have, those seniors of 1945, but . . . consultation of the official high school crystal ball, plus a bit of imagination, produces these forecasts for them, ten years hence. BEHOLD—

Jean Abernethy, doing barnyard imitations with Doctor Blotz's Traveling Talent Show . . . Harry Bourdeau, star of the smash hit on Broadway, "Double Talk in G Minor" . . . Anna Marie Aickin, and her clarinet, on the radio program, "Reduce to Music" . . . Bill Clint, champion weight-lifter of all the 48 states . . . Pat Ballard, a frenzied mother, trying to keep her hair from graying . . . Runner-up in the swoon croon contest is that poor undernourished singer, Steve DiMare . . . Directing speech classes at Joe's Bar, is Madame Jeanne Burns Doe . . . Dressed in a zoot-suit on the corner of Hollywood and Vine still stands Slick-Chick Finnilla . . . Now being called Flattop, Dorothy Collier models dresses for Mr. Powers . . . If you get a telegram and someone sings "Happy Birthday," that will be Bill Holmstrom . . . Shirley De Groodt, drowning her sorrows in a glass of milk at Mike's Tavern . . . Bob Hyde, giving seances for many Harbor students . . . Marge Engren, typing 60 words per minute with her toes . . . Jerry Johnson, giving advice to heartbroken girls . . . Bertha Estok, jumping from horse to horse in Barnum and Bailey's circus . . . "Joke" Jokela, cutting paper dolls in Mother Murphy's Home for Harmless . . . Virginia Haapala, laboring by day and by night, doing housework . . . Bill Klimcheck, swabbing more decks . . . Dorothy Heino, professor of unknown arts and sciences . . . Wavne "Red" Kosola, in the depths of the African jungle teaching jive steps to the medicine men . . . Marcella Johnson, selling popcorn at Miami Beach . . . Bill Laurila, teaching the little ones the art of playing hop-scotch . . . Viola Kaarto, burning the ladies' hair while she sings . . . Anthony Laveck, chief chef at the Waldorf-Astoria . . . Irene Koi, busy taking care of her little darlings . . . Bill Lehtinen, teaching dancing to the Broadway beauties . . . Doris Lukkaria, renting U-Drive-It camels to tourists in Arabia . . . Allan Lillvis, selling a formula on "How To Reduce," or "Gee, You're Fat," . . . Margaret Mary Mahoney, playing with her pail and shovel in the Sahara desert . . . David Magreevy, instructing the birds and bees on traffic rules . . . Jean McArthur, taming lions so they can be used in zoos . . . Bill Millberg, driving a racer at Indianapolis . . . Ada McCov, carrying on in the office while the boss plays golf . . . Oiva Paavola, a card sharp and in the dough, beating those "hayseeds" . . . Virginia Miner, giving advice to those who have made faulty marriages . . . Bill Rantala, selling beef on the hoof with no points . . . Lorraine Nieminen, a girl bronco-buster at a rodeo . . . Bill Pierce, modeling at the Pierre's Men's Fashion Shoppe . . . Louise Plagakis, trying to put a bill through Congress to make doorways lower so she'd look taller . . . Richard Sasso, ballet trainer of stage and screen . . . Mildred Raitto, a quiz kid on the loose . . . Bill Shea, telling bedtime stories over his own radio program to all little kiddies . . . Joan Schwacofer, president of Woman's Club . . . Paul Tikkanen, giving demonstrations to helicopter prospects . . . Beverly Woodring, woman champion high hurdler . . . Allen Turula, always taking a 10-mile hike each day before breakfast . . . Kaino Wuori, trying to make up her mind what man to choose . . . Robert Wilhide, darning his own socks in his bachelor apartment . . . Don Zalimeni, singing opera with the Met.

6 Cagers Win Letters

● During the past basketball season, 1945, six men made their varsity letters. Of these, three are seniors, and three, juniors.

Captain and center of the 1945 team was senior Don Zalimeni. Don was an all-around man in any sport. Under his captaincy, the Mariners won the County Class B district tournament at Edgewood and tied for third in the league.

Bud Bourdeau was another all-around athlete, but he played little basketball till his senior year when he made a great showing for himself as one of the top-scorers of the team.

The last letterman of the seniors was Bob Jokela, the boy from Dorset. Bob was the only left-handed passer on the team and he really kept the fellows busy guessing when and where the ball was going.

As the seniors are released to travel on in the sporting world or in other fields, three juniors are left behind to carry on where the seniors left off.

Tom Asuma, a grand little ball player, was the best dribbler on the 1945 squad. Fred Leng is the scrappy guard who sank the basket that beat Ashtabula in their return game on Harbor's floor. Ed Pohjala, the fighting fair-haired boy, always held his end of the game high.

11 Trackmen Win Awards

●Seven seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores will receive letters for their efforts on the 1945 track squad, at the recognition program.

The seven senior members of the 1945 squad were Bud Bourdeau, who participated in the pole vault and running events;

Bob Wilhide hurdles; Bill Millberg, mile relay team and 220-yd. dash; Paul Tikkanen shot put; Jerry Johnson, pole vault and mile relay; Bill Laurila, mile and 220-yd. dash; and Don Zalimeni, high hurdles, shot put, and 880-yd. relay.

Carl DeMarco, a junior, was on the 880-yd relay team. Ed Pohjala receives his letter for work in the relays. Bob Ockman, sophomore, was a miler. Doug Scott ran in the relays and in the mile.

 State District tournament at Kent.

Coach Thomas, in his first year produced Harbor High's first championship football team in many years, winning eight, losing none, and tying none. In the league basketball season of 1943 Harbor won one and lost five. In track, the same year, the Mariners placed third in the L. S. A. L. meet.

In the fall of 1944, Harbor's football team won four out of six league games to tie for second in the league. Along came basketball and Harbor once more went to town, taking third place in the league and winning the Class B District championship at Edgewood.

Then came "Greetings," and Coach Thomas was off for the Army. He reported for induction April 2.

● Boys' interclass basketball was in two leagues this year, an "A" league composed of the best teams of the upper three classes and a "B" league composed of players from the upper three classes and the qualified freshmen who were not out for frosh basketball.
